

LIMITED LIFETIME WARRANTY

Native Trails warrants that our sinks, tubs and bath furniture shall be free from defects in workmanship or materials under normal residential use and care for as long as the original purchaser owns them, when purchased through an authorized Native Trails dealer. Variations in dimensions, textures and finishes are inherent in the nature of our handcrafted products and are not considered defects. In no event shall Native Trails be liable for any damage to or caused by the products during or after installation. Native Trails is not responsible for labor or installation charges or any other expenses associated with defective product. Our sole responsibility is replacement, exchange or repair of defective product.

Native Trails makes no warranty as to the finishes on the products, as the finishes naturally change over time. Refer to our Care and Maintenance Instructions for proper maintenance of the products.
